

C.R.I. CARES

A CSR activity to fight against COVID-19

On behalf of all of us at C.R.I., we hope you and your loved ones are safe and healthy. Our thoughts are with everyone that has been deeply affected by the current situation.

As the global Covid-19 pandemic continues to affect all of our daily lives, we are starting to perceive the effects and implications it has across industries and operations. We're becoming aware of a new reality the likes of which we have not seen and the outcomes of which we cannot foresee. In these times of uncertainty, we acknowledge the path ahead will be a challenging one, both personally and professionally, as well as transformational. For the time being, we are pushing forward with our mission responsibly and appropriately, our team is working fully and is available as always, approaching each challenge as they become apparent.

C.R.I. as a corporate citizen and providing yeomen service to the society, has contributed many needy things like, safety kits, grocery items to the poor people, migrant workmen, frontline workers and many other relief material to the needy.

Please take care of yourselves, those closest to you, your colleagues and communities.
